Hi, Ray and Bel!

I haven't had a chance to call again - my sister had a heart attack over the weekend and things have been crazy and chaotic!

Do you have any info on Mary Jane Williams WILLIAMSON's family? What happened to Martha MORPHEW Williams? I'm hungry for info - it seems that I've chased these folks for so long!

Were you able to read the info included in my last e-mail - amidst all the forwarded stuff?

Love to hear from you!

Chadwick - The name Chadwick is often pronounced Shaddock & sometimes given as Shattock, which name properly belongs to another family. In Freehold records Thomas & William Shaddocks are named as paying for land. William Shattock eventually removed to Burlington Co. - Samuel Shaddock is named among inhabitants of Shrewsbury who took the oath of allegiance 1668. Thos & Samuel "Shaddock" prob first in Monmouth named of the family who saw spell their name Chadwick.

Among taxpayers in old Shrewsbury Sep. 1764 were Wm Chadwick & John Chadwick. Thos. Chadwick was a Captain in 3rd Regt. State Militia - during Rev. he had a dau Anna m. Esq. The first of the name of Chadwick that come to this Country were Charles & John prob. brothers supposed to have come in Gov. Winthrop's fleet 1630. The Chadwick family is one of the most ancient in England & the pedigree of the principal line has been preserved for near a thousand years and it seems a great stickler for preserving family names, as the names William, Thomas and John are found in almost every generation back to and before the conquest.

His partnership with Mr. Sinclair continued until September, 1885, when Mr. Hood purchased the interest of his partner and conducted the paper alone until December, 1886. He then sold to W. E. Morphew

JOHN W. EGGERS, farmer, miller and carpenter, resides on section 10, Jackson Township, where he owns 183 acres of land. He was born in Floyd Township, this county, August 8, 1838, a son of Jesse and Sarah (Morphew) Eggers, natives of Indiana, the former of English and the latter of French descent. They came to this county in 1831, where the father is still living. The grandfather of our subject, William Eggers, was in the war of 1812, and came to Indiana when it was a Territory, being an early settler of Putnam County. He was born in 1795, and died October 16, 1886. John was married in this county January 19, 1861, to Matilda A., daughter of Roland and Betsey Sutherland, who was born in this county, Jackson Township, November 19, 1843. They have three children—Sarah, born May 6, 1863, married Martin T. Henry, and has two children—Alva R. and Bertha M.; Newberry D., born January 4, 1867; Genora F., born September 6, 1874. Mr. Eggers has held the office of school director and other local offices. In politics he is a Democrat, and himself and wife are members of the Baptist church. Mrs. Eggers' grandfather was one of the early settlers of Putnam County. Her father died in 1876, at the age of sixty-two years. Her mother is still living, and is seventy-four years of age. She is unusually bright and active for a woman of her age.

OSCAR W. ELLIS, farmer and dairyman, Greencastle Township, was born in Alexandria, Virginia, June 16, 1831, son of John W. and Sarah E. Ellis, the former a native of Virginia, of English ancestry, and the latter of England. To the parents were born thirteen children, of whom eleven are living—Mary, wife of Frank Jean, of Los Angeles, California; Thomas O., of Sullivan County, this State; Ann M., wife of George Riggs, of Nebraska; Virginia, now Mrs. Robert McCormick, of Missouri; Eldridge R., of Coatesville, Indiana; Robert, of Sullivan County; Olivia, wife of George Warner, of the same county, and Oscar W. In 1834 our subject came to Indiana with his parents, who settled in Sullivan County, and remained there until their decease. They were pioneers of that county. They had to cut their lumber with a whip-saw, and made their floors of puncheons. Their nearest town was Vincennes, twenty miles distant. The father was one of the first county officers and served as overseer of the poor, and township trustee several years. He died in 1870, and his funeral was said to be the largest ever held in Sullivan County. He was a zealous member of the Methodist Episcopal church, and contributed liberally to that church, being especially liberal to poor people. He was a man of untiring energy and determination. When he came to this State he had about nine dollars in money and a few household goods. At his death his estate was estimated at $20,000. In politics he was a Democrat. Oscar W. was reared to manhood in Sullivan County, and has been a life-long farmer. During past twenty years he has devoted much attention to the dairy business, which has proved to be quite profitable. January 7, 1858, he was married to Sarah E. Buck, born May 9, 1834, in New Jersey, and a daughter of William and Phazena Buck, the former a native of England, and the latter of New Jersey. Her parents emigrated to Vigo County, this State, in 1836, thence to Greene County in a few years. Mr. and Mrs. Ellis are the parents of seven children, five living—Phazina, wife of John Keller, of Greencastle; Hattie, William, Mary, at present attending DePauw University, and Edward. In 1861 our subject removed to this county, and has resided here ever since. He owns a fine farm of eighty acres, and resides on section 31. Himself and wife are members of the Methodist Episcopal church, of which he has served as Sunday-school superintendent, steward and class-leader. In politics he is a Democrat.

Mrs. Wilson was born in this county in 1840. They have had four children, the first of which died an infant; the other three are still living. Delana C. and Charley A., a teacher, are pursuing a course of study in the State Normal at Terre Haute. Gilbert, the youngest, is at home. Mr. Wilson is a Democrat in politics, and a county commissioner at this time, and has been township assessor one term. His early educational advantages were limited, but he possesses a good fund of information and common sense, and is one of the influential men of the county. He had but little property to begin with, and had to rent land for seven or eight years. He got his land by going in debt for it, and by raising and selling cattle to pay for it. The farm he now owns has cost him $7,500. Mr. Wilson and his wife and three children are members of the Presbyterian church at Groveland.

JOHN WILSON, a farmer of Floyd Township, resides on section 9, where he owns 161 acres of good land, in a large state of cultivation. He was born in that township January 23, 1838, a son of Abel and Julia A. Wilson. They were natives of Kentucky, the former of English and the latter of German ancestry. The mother's maiden name was Kolesapple. They came to this county in 1832, and are still living in the same township in which they first settled. They had six children; five of them are still living. John was the fourth child. He was reared on his father's farm. He was married in 1860, in Floyd Township, to Miss Nancy, daughter of John and Anna C. Lewis, natives of Kentucky. The father died in 1863; the mother is still living.

ELDER OSCAR F. LANE, farmer, section 11, Monroe Township, was born in that township May 5, 1848. His father, Higgins Lane, now deceased, was a native of Montgomery County, Kentucky, and came to this county in 1844, having bought land here in 1837. He was reared on a farm, and educated in what was then the Northwestern Christian University, now Butler University, graduating in June, 1871. He preached in the Christian church seventeen years, when failing health compelled him to abandon that work. He began his ministerial labors when sixteen years of age. Loyal "Regulators'" Association.

We the Subscribers true & Faithful subjects of our Sovereign Lord King George the third (whom may God long preserve) having for a very considerable Time past been justly alarmed at the unaccountable conduct & behaviour of a set of people, who have impudently usurped the Title of Regulators; & being now roused by the unparalleled Insolence offered by an assembled Body of them to one of his Majesty's Sup^r Courts of Justice begun at Hillsborough on the 22^d Day of Sep^r last past, & at the lawless & Brutal Violence excited against the Members of the Court in the presence of the Judge, (sedente Curia) & seeing & hearing with the heaviest Concern & most alarming apprehensions the numberless outrages committed by them in the most open & daring manner against the persons liberties & properties of many of our fellow subjects are stimulated to step forth with a manly & loyal Resolution in support of the Laws & constitution of our Country. Declaring in the Integrity of our hearts that we think it not only an authority permitted, but a duty enjoined by the Laws of God & Nation, strenuously and bravely to defend ourselves against & openly when called upon to oppose such who by these proceedings, now demonstrate to the World that they are actuated by a spirit of licentiousness sedition & Riot & that they have adopted principles & are pursuing measures dangerous to the Constitution subversive of all the ends & Designs of Good Government obstructing the Execution of wise & beneficial Laws violating the common Rights of mankind in Society & destructive to the peace & prosperity of the publick — We profess to fear God & Reverence Religion — & we mean by this our unanimous association on this awful & trying occasion to approve ourselves the declared Friends of our happy Constitution & supporters of those Glorious British Maxims & Laws whereby we are entitled to the protection of our persons & a security in the peaceable and undisturbed possession of all our boasted Rights Liberties & privileges as freeborn English subjects — We esteem it a Duty inculcated by our Blessed Religion (the best natural institution on earth) & a Doctrine clearly established by Holy Writ that every man is by Nature a soldier against the Traitors of his King, & those who would disturb the peace of Society, or Violate the Laws of his Country; we further esteem it our Christian Duty to relieve the poor protect the Innocent & to redress the injured — & finally since neither the Fear of God, the sacred awe of Religion, the authority of Laws nor yet the love of Mankind are sufficient to restrain these infatuated people from the most astonishing Depredations & unheard of Acts of Barbarity & Cruelty, We feel ourselves constrained by the Dictates of self preservation a principle not imbibed by Education or inculcated by municipal obligation, but instilled in the soul & impressed upon the Human Heart at our Nativity by the God of universal Nature — to enter into this Association Wherefore We do solemnly & sincerely depose & swear on the Holy Evangelists of Almighty God that we will for the grand purposes aforementioned be true to & stand faithfully by assist & protect each other & that whenever We are called upon or required that we will immediately laying aside all other Business & Concerns repair properly accoutred for the purposes of self preservation & mutual Defence ready to enter upon any Enterprize that shall be agreed upon by a Majority of the Redressors present & continue the pursuit of such undertaking until relinquished by a consent of Majority present & that we will on every occasion in consequence of this our Engagement convene together as soon as possible & protect support & Defend each other to the utmost of our powers & abilities, so help us God.

Redressors to be our Title, & Rules for Government & Conduct of ourselves to be established occasionally by the Majority of our Body.

1883 HISTORY

JOHN W. COLE, son of John and Elizabeth Cole, was born September 5, 1848, in Vermillion County, Ind. His parents were natives of New Jersey, who came to this State in its early days. The educational advantages of our subject were much constrained. He worked for his clothing and board until he was sixteen, and afterward by the month, giving most of his wages to his parents. He was later a teamster, and worked in a grain warehouse, for which company he moved to Danville, Ill., and thence to Hoopeston, where he was married to Miss Sarah E. Voss. In 1873, Mr. Cole moved to this county, settled on the present site of Ambia, and engaged in the grain business, to which he added merchandise. In 1874, he failed, and the next year went into business with A. C. Goodwin, but after one year sold his interest, abandoned the business, studied law, was admitted to the bar, and has now a reasonably fair and a good local practice. Mr. and Mrs. Cole have a family of five—Ira, Mary, Effie, Robert and Nannie. Mr. Cole is a Republican, and is an active man in county politics; he is also a Knight of Honor, a member of the United Brethren Church and an earnest church and Sunday school worker.

C. S. GOLDEN was born in Gettysburg, Penn., December 11, 1840, and is a son of Isaac and Elizabeth Golden; the former died in 1881, the latter in 1869. Our subject worked for his father until 1860, when he moved to Washington to learn the trade of baking, at which he worked more than three years, when he enlisted in March, 1865, in the Ninety-third Pennsylvania Regiment, after which he resumed baking at Gettysburg. He then learned carpentering and worked at building barns, after which he settled at Hoopeston, Ill., where he bought a lumber yard, and afterward an elevator in Ambia, Ind.; this he exchanged for 192 acres in Iroquois County, Ill., where he engaged in farming, and afterward bought a drug store, and served as Postmaster one year. This store he sold to J. W. Scott. In 1880, he began the clothing business in Ambia, to which he added a general stock, and has done a good business. Mr. Golden has made many changes, and has also made money thereby. He was married, May 1, 1872, to Miss Amanda Dunkleberger, a marriage fruitful in four children—Alvin Leo, Jennie May, Thomas Jefferson and Edgar Poe. Mr. Golden is a Democrat, a Knight of Honor, and he and wife belong to the United Brethren Church.

ALFRED GOODRICK, son of John and Sarah (Canady) Goodrick, was born June 6, 1841, in Rush County, Ind., where he worked for his father until 1861, when he enlisted in the Thirty-third Indiana Volunteer Infantry, and served through the war. At Thompson's Station, 1,117 men were captured and sent to Libby Prison, exchanged in twenty days, and assigned to guard duty on the Nashville & Chattanooga Railroad. In 1863, he re-enlisted, and was in all the battles of the Atlanta campaign, in the last of which he was wounded by a minie ball, which split his cheek from mouth to ear, and after recovery he resumed duty at Gen. Rousseau's headquarters. He was discharged August, 1865; went to Kansas for a time. In 1871, he returned and purchased 120 acres in Warren County. Mr. Goodrick was married, March 21, 1873, to Miss Emma Morpheu, by which union they have two children—Munroe and George. In February, 1882, he sold said farm and engaged in the grocery trade in Ambia, having erected a spacious store building and established a fine business. Mr. Goodrick is a Republican, and a member of the Knights of Honor.

JOHN C. GREENBURG, son of Frederick William and Charlotte Greenburg, is a native of Prussia, born in 1842, March 20. His father was a general merchant. John obtained a fair education, as most German boys can obtain, and after serving as clerk for some time, came to America in 1861, and then to a brother in Tippecanoe County, Ind., where he worked until July, 1862, when he enlisted in the Seventy-second Regiment Indiana Volunteer Infantry, served as musician through the war, and was promoted to chief musician. He was discharged in July, 1865. In 1866, he married Miss Mary Wallace, who died after six months, and in 1871 he married Miss Jane Barber, daughter of Alvin and Julia Barber, which union resulted in five children—Estelle, Allen, Lucretia, Viola and Carl. After improving sixty acres of wild land, and selling the same for $35 per acre, he took up eighty acres of unbroken prairie, sixty of which he afterward sold for $2,200. He again settled on eighty acres of wild land, which he improved and sold very advantageously. Finally, he purchased his present eighty-acre home. Mr. Greenburg is a member of the Masonic and G. A. R. fraternities, a Republican, and an honorable citizen. His family also came to this country in 1865.

JOHN S. HERRIMAN was born March 13, 1842, in Warren County, Ind., and is a son of John B. and Nancy A. Herriman, both natives of Ohio, who came to Indiana in the early time, when settlers were very few, and moved to Iroquois County, Ill., in 1852, where John had but little chance for school-going; he therefore gave his time to his father until 1862, when he enlisted in the Seventy-sixth Illinois Volunteers. Soon after his enlistment he took measles, the sequel of which compelled him to return. In 1868, he married Miss Martha Smith, to which union have been

EARLY MARRIAGES IN WARREN COUNTY, INDIANA

1828 to 1853

Compiled in 1985 by Walter A. and Berneice B. Salts, West Lebanon IN,

from

Warren County Marriage Record Books A, 1, 2, and 3 in the Clerk's Office at Williamsport IN

Notes

Comparison has been made to previous partial lists of these early marriages which have been compiled over past years. This list included all marriages located from the origin of the county records to the beginning of the WPA index of 1939, which was compiled for the years 1853-1920.

Because of difficulties in interpreting handwriting and because of the use of phonetic spelling of names in many cases, there are without doubt incorrect spellings of names herein.

The symbol (LIC) indicates that the marriage license was issued on the date given, but that there was no return filed for the marriage.

Most of Book A was later copied into Book 1, and much of Book 2 was also copied into Book 1, which will account for the double book-and-page listings of many marriages. Some names were changed in the process, making an accurate listing more difficult.

Dear Mr. Salter,

Thank you very much for the letter you sent in case of my mother telling me how to read the records. I needed it the Williamsport one, though.

May I ask you for a letter of help. He would have helped to say we could get into the cemetery.

So I decided not to say it in person. Your guidance and the help of Mr. Salter enabled me to get what we needed. I thank you.

Dear Mr. Salter, for you, as that was in a letter please. He stopped by the cemetery. Williamsport then was a note on the door saying it was closed because the lady in charge had died. That's the second time we tried to visit the Museum. Maybe the third time will be "Museum".

THE TOWNSENDS ARE OF MIXED NORMAN SAXSON ORIGIN. THE FIRST TOWNSEND I HAVE RECORD OF IS SIR LODIVAC DE TOWNSHEND, WHO WAS A PROTEGE OF WILLIAM THE CONQUERER; AND BY HIS LOYALTY TO HIM WAS GIVEN LARGE AMOUNTS OF LAND AND OTHER PROPERTIES IN ENGLAND ABOUT 1066.

WALTER DE TOWNSHEND, SON OF LODIVAC, MARRIED ELIZBETH DE HAUTSVILLE WHO WAS SOLE HEIR TO THE MANORS OF RAYNHAM. HER FAMILY WAS ONE OF GREAT ANTIQUITY AND PROMINENCE AT THE TIME. THE NAME TOWNSEND WAS SPELLED SEVERAL WAYS. SOME EXAMPLES ARE TUNNESHEND, TOWNSHEND, TOWNSON, TOWNSHEND, TOWNSEND. THE NAME WAS ADOPTED BY THOSE WHO LIVED AT THE EDGE OR END OF TOWN; THUS TOWNS-END.

THE TOWNSENDS QUITE FREQUENTLY APPEARED WITH PROPERTIES AT TAVERHAM, NORFOLK, ENGLAND IN THE YEAR 1200. THOMAS LIVED DURING THE REIGN OF HENRY III, 1271. IN THE YEAR 1304 LIVED WILLIAM, HIS SON, WHO WAS A MAN OF GENTRY AND MEANS. THE FAMILY WAS POSSESSED OF VALUABLE ESTATES AND WEALTH.

THE FAMILY "COAT OF ARMS" IS A SHIELD, WITH CHEVERON, BETWEEN THREE ESCALLOP SHELLS.

THE 30 YEARS FOLLOWING THE "WAR OF ROSES", 1455, WERE VERY TURBULANT ONES FOR THE VARIOUS FAMILIES OF ENGLAND. MUCH OF THE NOBILITY HAD PERISHED BY THE TIME KING HENRY VII ASCENDED THE THRONE. HENRY WAS FORCED TO SUPPORT THE RISING MIDDLE CLASS OF WHICH THE TOWNSENDS WERE A PART. MOST TOWNSEDS WERE INVOLVED IN LAW, NOT IN COMMERCE, AS THE KING FAVORED.

WITHIN A FEW YEARS THE TOWNSENDS HAD MOVED FROM WESTERN ENGLAND TO EASTERN ENGLAND TO BE NEAR THE COURT OF HENRY.

What an adventure — seeing genealogist hone in on target

(Each January, Carol Collins turns her first Michiana Roots column of the year over to her husband, who concedes that he's no genealogist but has spent a quarter of a century studying the breed, which he still finds exotic at times — Editor)

By WALTON R. COLLINS

I've seen her do this a dozen times or more. How she does it remains as baffling as the first time I saw it happen.

It's 7 a.m. in London on a sunny June morning. Our transAtlantic flight landed half an hour ago at Gatwick Airport and we're now aboard a Speedlink bus to Heathrow for a flight to Belfast, the final leg of our trip. We're sitting across from, and facing, two men. One of them is clearly an American, and we offer the usual pleasantries that Americans resort to when they encounter countrymen abroad, even if they've all just flown in on the same plane from the States.

Suddenly Carol's eye gets a glint and she asks, "Where are you from?"

"The family's from Pennsylvania," he responds.

I've seen her do this a dozen times or more. How she does it remains as baffling as the first time I saw it happen.

It's 7 a.m. in London on a sunny June morning. Our transAtlantic flight landed half an hour ago at Gatwick Airport and we're now aboard a Speedlink bus to Heathrow for a flight to Belfast, the final leg of our trip. We're sitting across from, and facing, two men. One of them is clearly an American, and we offer the usual pleasantries that Americans resort to when they encounter countrymen abroad, even if they've all just flown in on the same plane from the States.

Suddenly Carol's eye gets a glint and she asks, "Where are you from?"

"The family's from Pennsylvania," he responds.

"I've just paid a visit to my grandmother, who still lives on the family property. I hadn't seen her in quite a few years and she's nearly 100 years old. I thought I'd better not put it off any longer."

Instantly the two of them are off and running, talking genealogy and scouting for any family names or geography they might have in common. I might as well resume reading the paperback I brought along to pass the time on our journey.

Instead, as our bus lurches fitfully through London's morning rush-hour traffic, I mull anew the mystery. How did they spot one another? What prompted this stranger to read a simple "Where are you from?" as an invitation to start a family-history journey back to Charlemagne?

When someone asks me where I'm from, I merely say: South Bend. It never occurs to me to say: Well, the family left Ireland during the famine and ended up in the anthracite mines in northeast Pennsylvania, but my grandmother was a Burke, so her family must have arrived in Ireland with the Normans and so on and so on. Genealogists, however, seem to do that sort of thing the instant they encounter another genealogist.

But how do they do it? Is there a secret hand signal or some subtle inflection in the phrasing of "Where are you from?" Is it pheromones or the lingering odor of microfilm dust? Do genealogists exude Age-of-Aquarius-style auras? Is extrasensory perception involved?

Whatever it is, I've seen it happen often enough with Carol to believe that more than coincidence is involved. That morning in London she and our fellow traveler spent the hour's bus ride comparing computer programs for genealogy, discussing their favorite family stories, and generally acting as if they'd known each other for a quarter of a century.

gence that seemed trivial to the two of them, though it struck me as getting finally to the point of the opening question.

Now only does Carol spot live genealogists wherever she goes, she is equally uncanny at finding dead ancestors. Last summer in County Mayo, Ireland, she took us unerringly to a rural graveyard where some of my ancestors are buried. She found it with the help of an accommodating bed-and-breakfast hostess who made our hunt possible by volunteering to chauffeur us over the mapless moors in her own car. She found it despite the fact that virtually all identifying landmarks, including the church that once stood beside the cemetery, were gone.

We didn't actually turn up a gravestone with any of my family names on it, but that, Carol assured me, was only because the oldest stones were too weatherbeaten to be readable, and anyway they were obscured by ankle-deep vines and thorny ground cover.

"Thank God St. Patrick drove the snakes out of Ireland," she commented, glancing apprehensively toward her feet, which were hidden in the tangle of vines. Though she once survived a stare-down with a wolf in an out-of-the-way graveyard in southern Indiana, she recoils at the thought of snakes.

Nothing about that day surprised me. Carol's defining moment in spotting dead ancestors had occurred one weary afternoon several years earlier as we ended a strenuous day of sightseeing in Jerusalem with a visit to the Church of the Holy Sepulcher, which is built on the putative site of the Crucifixion.

Pausing in front of an elaborately carved sarcophagus to scan the inscription on the tomb, which dates back to the time of the Crusades, she suddenly brightened:

"He's one of mine," she chirped, her day fulfilled. Who am I to argue?

march 24 1905

After an illness lasting three weeks Mrs. Adams Earl died at 11 o'clock this morning at the late home, Earlhurst, on East Union street. The exact cause of death is given as cardiac dilatation. Local and foreign physicians had been attending the deceased, and everything that medical skill could do was done for her. Mrs. Earl was 84 years old, and was one of the most remarkable women in Indiana, belonging to one of the most illustrious families in the state.

Mrs. Adams Earl's maiden name was Marion Jane Hawkins, and she was born July 12, 1822, at Elletts, Butler county, O. In October, 1879, she returned with her parents, James and Elizabeth (Hawkins) from her birthplace to Wea, Tippecanoe county, Ind., at the place now known as Shadeland farm. She lived there until she was married to Adams Earl, December 2, 1846, when she came to LaFayette, where she lived until her death. Mrs. Earl is the last of eleven brothers and sisters, whose names are as follows: Eli Hawkins, Kankakee, Ill.; Jennie Winslow, Wea, Tippecanoe county; Eliza Fowler, LaFayette; Nancy Van Meter, Kankakee, Ill.; Alfred Hawkins, Wea; William Hawkins, Wea; James Hawkins, Jr., Earl Park; Elizabeth Vandervill, LaFayette; Susanush Sims, Delphi; Hannah Kennedy, Indianapolis.

Adams Earl died January 15, 1898. There were two children born to Mr. and Mrs. Earl—one daughter, Mrs. Alice Earl Stuart, who is the only survivor; and Morrell J. Earl, who died June 28, 1877, having been married a year before to Elizabeth Claypool, of Connersville, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Austin B. Claypool. Mrs. Morrell Earl now lives at Connersville. Mrs. Alice Earl Stuart was married to Charles Benedict Stuart on December 26, 1876, and he died February 20, 1890. Mrs. Earl resided in Tippecanoe county for the greater part of her life, and her connection with one of the best known families in the state, gave her a prominence and distinction that few people enjoy. She was refined, cultured and a lady whose character was as spotless as the unclouded heavens. In her home there were many social functions and in the old days, when Adams Earl's name was connected with financial enterprises that were the building of the Wabash valley, notables and dignitaries from all over the United States came to the home and met the best people of Indiana. The death of Mrs. Earl leaves a woman who the growth, the advancement, the social triumphs, the business achievements of LaFayette, and she was admired by acquaintances, loved by friends and adored by her family. She had a charming disposition, was always hospitable and entertaining and was one whose life made the world better for its living.

Career of Adams Earl

The death of Mrs. Earl recalls the life of her late husband, one of the most substantial citizens of the state. Adams Earl was born April 20, 1819, in Fairfield county, Ohio, and was the youngest of a family of fifteen children. His father, Nehemiah Earl, was the son of Daniel Earl and the Earl family were unusually large men and over six feet in height. Adams Earl passed his younger days on the farm, and during the winter of 1836 he came with his parents to Tippecanoe county, settling on the Wea Plains. He was employed in breaking prairie and farming. In 1840 he commenced constructing flat boats on the Wabash river, loading them with products from the Wea Plains and taking them to New Orleans. In 1848 he moved to this city and started in a general merchandise business with James G. Carnahan, under the firm name of Carnahan & Earl. He disposed of his interest to his partner in 1853 and embarked in the wholesale grocery business. Near the close of that year he formed a partnership with Moses Fowler in the wholesale grocery trade under the name of Fowler & Earl. In 1857 they added to their business that of banking, opening the Indiana bank, which was afterward merged into the LaFayette bank of the State of Indiana, afterward known as the National State bank of LaFayette. During the above period Mr. Earl continued as the active manager of the wholesale grocery house. In 1857 Henry C. Bruce was admitted as a partner, under the style of Fowler, Earl & Bruce, which firm continued until 1860, when Mr. Earl purchased the other interest and associated with himself William H. Hatcher, the firm being Earl & Hatcher. In 1865 they erected the large stone front building known as the Earl & Hatcher block, on Third street. In 1869 an enterprise was commenced by LaFayette citizens to secure an east and west railroad, running from Muncie through LaFayette to Bloomington, Ill. From the first inception Mr. Earl took an active interest in the project. At the first meeting he was selected a director of the company and by the directors he was elected president. He served in this capacity three years during which time the western division of the road was completed and put in operation. This road is now part of the Lake Erie and Western line. In 1870 the Cincinnati, LaFayette and Chicago railroad company was organized to construct and operate a railroad from LaFayette to Kankakee, Ill., there to connect with the Illinois Central for Chicago. This road was owned by Adams Earl, Moses Fowler and Gustavus Ricker, Mr. Earl being president, general manager and builder. In 1877, by purchasing Mr. Fowler's bonds and stock, Mr. Earl secured controlling interest in the property. In November, 1879 Mr. Earl disposed of his controlling interest in the property to Boston capitalists. In 1862 in company with Moses Fowler, he purchased about 36,000 acres of land in Benton county, and improved it with buildings. During all his life he had been an extensive dealer in cattle.

James B. Falley

James Baldwin Falley, at one time one of the leading business men of LaFayette, died at 6:15 o'clock last evening at St. Elizabeth hospital. He had been in feeble health for a long time and his demise is attributed to the infirmities of age. Mr. Falley was 80 years old and the greater part of his life was spent in LaFayette. He was born in Fulton, N. Y., on December 26, 1827, and came to LaFayette in 1841. For a number of years he was engaged in the hardware business and his store, which was located on North Third street, was one of the largest of its kind in the state. Later he was in business on Columbia street, between Fourth and Fifth streets. Mr. Falley was a man of strong personality, brusque in his manner, but still possessed a kind heart. He was scholarly and was a gentleman of the old school. He was sincere in all his purposes and was a man of high ideals. He was long identified with the commercial life of the city, and was an energetic business man. He was a democrat in politics, but never sought any public office. Mr. Falley was a convert to the Catholic religion and was a member of St. Mary's church. He is survived by a widow and four children. Edward Falley, a son, resides at 1404 North Fourteenth street, and the remains have been taken there to await interment. Joseph Falley, another son, lives in Indianapolis. Rev. Lewis Falley, another son, is professor in the Jesuit college in St. Louis, and arrived last night from Detroit to attend the funeral. A daughter, Mary, is a member of the Society of the Sacred Heart and lives near Cincinnati. Lewis Falley, of this city, is a brother of the deceased. Miss Lizzie Falley is a sister. The funeral will be held Saturday morning at 9 o'clock from St. Mary's church. Solemn high mass will be celebrated. Burial will be in St. Mary's cemetery. Friends are requested to omit flowers.

Aug THE DEATH ROLL

Miss Mary A. Taylor

Mrs. Mary Ann Taylor, who was stricken with paralysis ten days ago, died last night at 11:20 o'clock at the home of Mrs. William Taylor, 501 South Ninth street. She was born at Hamilton, O., July 27, 1831, and was a daughter of William and Mary Taylor. The family came to LaFayette by way of Cincinnati in 1819, making part of the journey by canal, and she was one of the oldest residents of LaFayette. She was a sister of the late Henry and Major Taylor and made her home with the latter and his family for years. Miss Taylor was a member of the Associate Reformed church, which later became the Presbyterian church. She was a refined and cultured woman, and possessing a beautiful character was admired by all who knew her. A sister, Mrs. Charles Heron, of Hebron Springs, Ark., is the only surviving member of a family of nine children. The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon from the residence, Dr. John P. Hale will officiate and the interment will be in Greenbush cemetery.
